Freedom to choose relieves pressure

The new system of walk-around registration gave students the freedom to choose the classes they would most like. This also gave more responsibility to the student, relieving some pressure on the counselors.

Pam Rocker, Senior:
"Civics, because this is the year of the presidential election and this causes interest in political organizations. I enjoy it."

Cheryl King, Junior:
"Advanced Biology, because it's interesting and fun. I am also looking forward to the field trips."

Michael Mizutani, Junior:

Keith Goossen, Sophomore:
"Journalism, because I'm looking forward to working on the VIKING VOICE."

Joe Aguiar, Sophomore:

Beginning of school elevates students

As another year starts here at Kingsburg High School one sees many familiar faces and also a few new faces. But generally everyone is the same except for being one step higher on the ladder toward graduation. How does it feel to be a year older? Well, here are some answers from the student body.

Kristi Steinhauer, Senior:
"It is sad to think this is my last year but also happy because I'll take with me many memories from my past years at Kingsburg High School."

Rod Rodgers, Junior:
"As a whole, I expect our great Junior Class to be much more mature and to be the leaders of Kingsburg High School."

Chriss Ellberg, Sophomore:
"How does it feel to be a sophomore? It feels magnificent! Because being a sophomore means having greater pride in Kingsburg High School."

Roger Yamada, Freshman:
"At Kingsburg High School you meet a lot of weird people and they ask you funny questions. I'd rather talk about football."

Leaders have high hopes for success

Each class president needs to be an optimist at best. He or she makes the class a success. We asked each of the class presidents what they hoped to accomplish and here's what they said:

Darren Hays, Associated Student Body:

"I hope to make Student Council a more candid and prominent resource to our school so that the students may become more active."

Mike Hanson, Senior Class:

"I hope to keep the same level of accomplishment that Jim Delgado set last year as our class president. Our senior year is the last leg in the years of growing up, and I just hope to make our class closer and more understanding."

Pam Thiessen, Junior Class:

"The main contribution of the Junior Class is the prom and I hope to make it successful. I also hope that the Junior Class officers can work more closely with Student Council than ever before."

Chris Avila, Sophomore Class:

"I would like to get all sophomores to participate in school activities."

The Freshmen Class president chose not to answer this question.

Coaches hope for big accomplishments

Kingsburg High School is known for its outstanding athletic program. We asked some of the coaches what they hoped for this year.

Coach Gerry Scheidt, football:
"We have outstanding personnel and great attitude. With these qualities we should go a long way."

Coach John Seaman, cross country:
"We're going to go for our fourth championship in a row!"

Coach George McKean, basketball:
"We have only two returning lettermen, and the team will be small, but we'll make up for this."

Coach George McKean, boys' tennis:
"We are hoping to win our third consecutive league title and a shot at the valley title."

Coach Jerry Rosser, baseball:
"The 1977 season could very well be as good as or better than last year, with strong pitching and hitting potential."

Coach Sam Crandell, wrestling:
"We are expecting great assistance from the undefeated junior varsity team of last year."

Coach Sam Crandell, swimming:
"Both teams could take league, with the girls much improved, and the boys expecting a challenge from Exeter."

New administration involved in change

As school started again, the students of KHS saw many changes. Some of these changes involved the new administration. Mr. William Horstmann is now the superintendent; Mr. Don Witzansky, principal; Mrs. Norma Mann, assistant principal; and Mr. Gary Paulsen, dean of boys. Mr. Horstmann was asked how he thought these changes would work out.

"I'm real happy with it so far. The basic reasons for the enlargement and changes in the administration staff this year, were because of the increase in paper work and the student body itself. In comparison to other schools of our size, we were understaffed," stated Mr. Horstmann.

After approximately 35 years of having two administrators run things at KHS, the administration thought that it was time to change. The superintendent will deal mainly with the financial and legal matters of the district with the community and the state. The principal's main job will be to see that everything on campus runs smoothly. Discipline will be handled by the assistant principal and the dean of boys.

Teachers set goals for upcoming year

Teachers, like students, also start a new school year with many goals they are trying to fulfill. Here are some accomplishments individual teachers spoke of:

Mrs. Kathleen Danell, English:
"Last summer was my first summer in Europe. This year I'll be trying to relate my new understanding of people and customs to my students."

Mrs. Peggy Foletta, science:
"I'm looking forward to having to spend fewer hours preparing class and learning the tricks-of-the-trade."

Mrs. Lois Johnson, music:

Mr. Gerry Scheidt, crafts:
"I'm looking forward to the enthusiasm of the student body, classes, and sports. In general, a much happier year."

Mr. Wayne Skaret, librarian:
"The addition of Julie Olson as an adult aide will provide more assistance for the students. Because of this, more of my time can be spent expanding the media center."

Quality, hard work provide good band

Band, like most other types of competition, is won mostly through quality and determination. Band Director Larry Johnson and Mrs. Lois Johnson have worked hard in the past to provide Kingsburg High School with a quality band. Here are some accomplishments they hope for:

Mr. Johnson:

"To perform up to the capabilities of the students, which doesn't necessarily mean we always have to win, as long as they do their best. The Jazz Choir was asked to perform at Foothill College. The band will perform in the Santa Cruz parade and the Selma festival. The jazz groups will travel to Reno, but spring tours are uncertain at this time. We're also having our own choir festival."

Mrs. Johnson:

"To do the best they can do. I think we have a very capable group, and if they do the best they can, I'll be satisfied. I think the flag girls this year will really add a lot. I also think band helps with school spirit. I think it's important that the school recognizes the band as an important part of spirit."

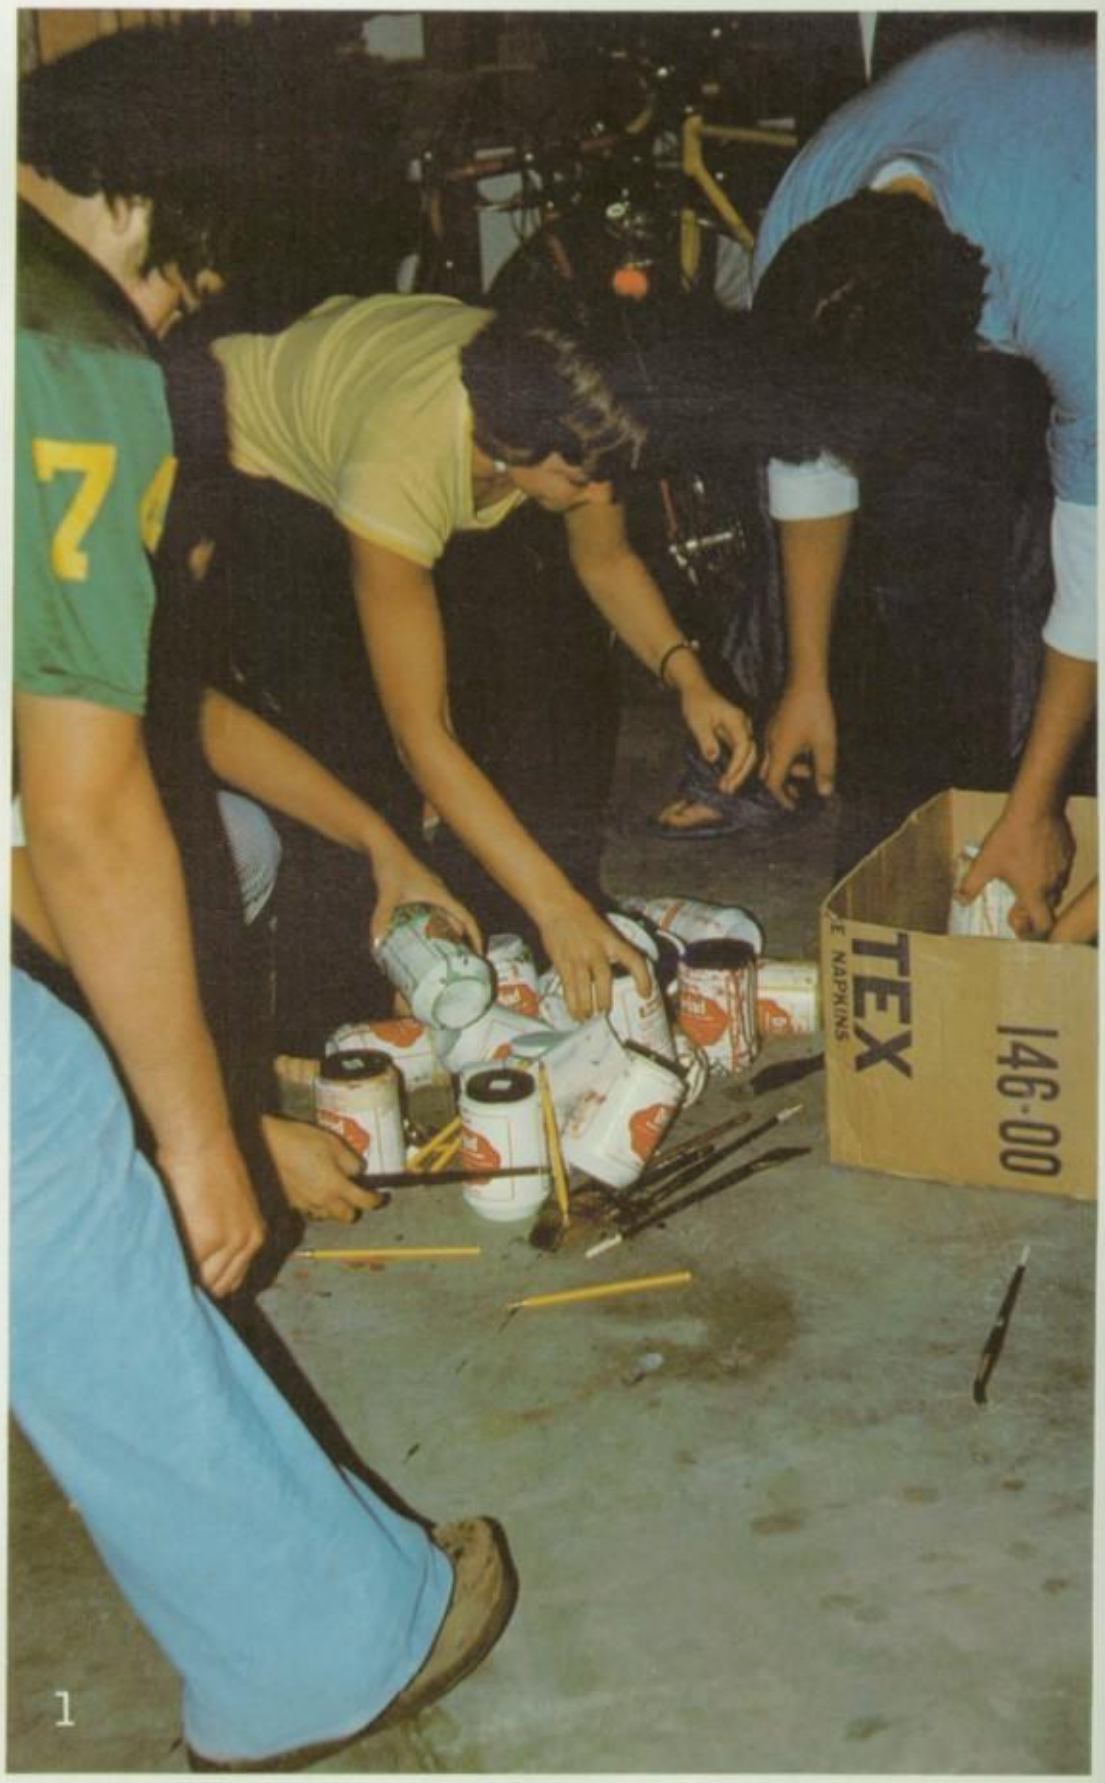
High-spirited KHS students seek more

Spirit is important at Kingsburg High School whether it be individual or class competition. Here are a few ways students think they can improve it:

Laura Johnson, Senior:
"To meet a lot of new friends, and have a great last year. Attending poster parties, helping in pep band and voicing my opinion in Student Council will help spirit. Most people are too worried about what people will think of them to get involved with class activities, special events and clubs."

Susie Delong, Junior:
"My goals are to get good grades, help with the yearbook, be active, and support the groups I'll belong to. Going to pep rallies will help spirit. If you go to a pep rally, you should participate, not just sit and snicker."

Doug Singh, Senior:
"When I'm on a team I'll help keep them together. I can also help school spirit by staying involved in clubs and meeting a lot of people. Just by doing a lot of different things."



(1) Seniors clean up after poster party. (2) Seniors patiently prepare another winning poster. (3) Sophomores struggle to complete unorganized poster party.

History repeated on first day of school

What the students of Kingsburg High School saw on the first day of the '76-'77 school year was history repeating itself. . . the rain. Only this year the lights didn't go off!!!

After a slow start the first Student Council meeting was called on Wednesday. The main issue discussed was the changing of districts. No definite decision was made.

Thursday the Mexican Culture Club held their first meeting to elect officers. Elected president was Fernando Hernandez.

Friday was the day everyone had been looking forward to. It was the day of the first pep rally and people were rowdy. The Pep Squad started it off by welcoming the school back with their own version of "Welcome Back." Todd Soares was awarded the "Horshack" award in honor of the freshman class. The mighty seniors took the poster competition, while the loud mouths for the day were the juniors.

Vikings involved in spirit week

This week was spirit week at Kingsburg High School. Pioneer Day was held Monday, with overalls and straw hats the attire of many.

Tuesday was Roaring 20's Day and the styles ranged from "flappers to old grannies."

Wednesday was Green and Gold Day. Many people wore a variety of ribbons from past years.

Thursday was Bicentennial Day and many spirited Vikes dressed in red, white and blue. Powder Puff Football also met today to pick teams. Coach Kevin Olson had 17 returning Valkyries, while Coach Ron Schmid only had six returning Trolls.

Saturday the Tri-Hi-Y put on their Disco-Dud-Arama fashion show. Many of KHS's glamorous girls participated and there were even a few guys. The club raised approximately $400.

Vikings anticipate an instant replay

After last year's success in the sports program, Kingsburg High School began the '76-'77 year with hopes of repeating.

Varsity football started the season with victories over Fowler 35-0, and Selma, 28-0, featuring a well-balanced offense and a stingy defense. The junior varsity squad followed up the varsity by taming Fowler, 21-0, and edging Selma, 14-13. Frosh-soph football began the season losing to Dinuba.

Viking cross country led off on the right foot defeating Reedley and Coalinga. Danny Martinez's third place medal helped the harriers to third place in the Kingsburg Invitational. Kathy Singh took second place against Coalinga and second in the Kingsburg Invitational.

With opening victories over Immanuel and Sierra, the volleyball team traveled to Hanford and were beaten. The junior varsity netters lost their matches against Immanuel, Sierra and Hanford, while the "C" team defeated Immanuel and Sierra, losing to Hanford.

Yearbook reaches sales goal of 600

Monday was Girls Athletic Association (GAA) initiation. As usual the senior girls dressed their little sisters in the ugliest clothes possible. After all, they had to be noticed. All day the freshman girls entertained the student body, doing who knows what. It was a Monday those freshman girls will never forget.

For the past month the VIKING yearbook was being sold. The sales goal of 600 was nearly reached.

The theme of the pep rally was "Baby Face" and David Moreno stuck to it as he downed a baby bottle full of Pepsi the fastest. For his efforts he received a box of Pampers. Poster competition was won by the seniors, yelling competition by the juniors. An aftergame dance was sponsored by the seniors and featured "Chantez."

Council to provide a place to park it

Mu Alpha Theta held a general meeting Monday. New members were welcomed and various discussions took place for fund-raising activities.

During the week Tootsie Pops were sold in exchange for a vote for your favorite candidate for Powder Puff King.

On Friday the Student Council held their second meeting. The main topic was the cement benches. Locations for the benches were discussed and decided upon. The benches will provide convenience for the student body.

An after-game dance was held in the cafeteria. Everyone was in good spirits, and many people came out to bump to the tunes of "Rainbow Bridge." The dance was sponsored by the Pep Squad.

Saturday the Ski Club held a car wash. It took place in the Union 76 parking lot from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The club charged $2 for their services and raised $65. This money will be used for various club activities.

Gridders rebound following first loss

Reedley handed the varsity gridders their first defeat of the season, 19-6, but the Vikings rebounded for a 20-0 win over the Caruthers Blue Raiders. Mike Hanson threw touchdown passes to Richard Trevino, Aaron Pena and Mike Caudillo against Caruthers. The Norsemen fell to Reedley, 22-0, and defeated Caruthers, 32-6. Victories over Immanuel, 18-6, and Woodlake, 44-0, were chalked up by the frosh-soph team.

After three consecutive undefeated league seasons, the varsity cross country team began this year's league schedule with wins over Immanuel and Woodlake. The girls' team lost to Immanuel.

The varsity volleyball team raised its record to 5-2 with victories over Lindsay 15-12, 15-12; Dinuba 7-15, 15-6, 16-14; and Orosi 15-7, 15-9 after losing to Woodlake 2-15, 1-15. Against Woodlake, the junior varsity girls lost but then followed up with victories over Lindsay, Dinuba and Orosi. Wins over Woodlake, Lindsay, Dinuba and Orosi were captured by the volleyball "C" team.

Valkyries defeat Trolls in Puff game

The Girls Athletic Association's Powder Puff football game, a steadily growing success, was held as the Valkyries and the Trolls met under the lights on Wednesday night. Both coaches, Mr. Kevin Olson and Mr. Ron Schmid, worked hard with their teams, but again, the Valkyries were victorious, 20-6.

Doug (Hubba-Hubba) Smith was chosen as the Powder Puff King from candy sales by the players the week prior to the game.

The California Scholarship Federation (CSF) held a noon meeting on Wednesday for the purpose of electing officers. Doug Singh was chosen as president.

With tired bodies and sleepy eyes, approximately 100 students from Kingsburg and the surrounding area showed up Saturday morning to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) in the cafeteria.

After only five days of practice, the band placed second in their division at the Santa Cruz Band Review on Saturday.

Students struggle with aptitude tests

Monday the Thespians held their first meeting to elect officers. Kristi Steinhauer was elected president. Young Life started tonight at the Young Life Clubhouse. Also on Monday the juniors took the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT), which prepares one for the SAT test.

Wednesday the Future Farmers of America (FFA) had a general night meeting in which they discussed the Beef and Bean feed and other activities. Also today the seniors took the Army's ASVAB test. It was given by the Armed Services.

Thursday, Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) held a meeting to discuss various activities and the Atwater Conference to be held on Oct. 30.

On Friday, the sophomores finally won a poster competition. The yelling competition was won by the upperclassmen. The Pep Squad did a skit with nursery rhymes about the Lindsay Cardinals. The theme was "Kingsburg Vikings Will Beat."

Vikes edge Cards in league opener

League play finally started for the varsity grid team, but not before a 19-12 loss to Riverdale. In the league opener, the Vikes slipped by Lindsay, 14-13. Kingsburg used a punishing ground attack against the Cardinals with Rod Rodgers scampering for 114 yards. Riverdale defeated the Norsemen, 7-0, and like the varsity, the norse began league play by stopping Lindsay, 20-0. For the frosh team, it was a 28-6 win over Orosi followed by a loss to Exeter. Rick Rogers scored three touchdowns against Orosi.

Against Exeter and Lindsay, the varsity harriers kept their perfect league record intact. Doug Hanson placed first in both races, while Danny Martinez took two second place medals. Kathy Singh took first place against Lindsay and second in Exeter for the girls. Clement Hurtado, Jeff Kenney and Lucky Vargas finished one-two-three for the frosh-soph team against Lindsay.

Varsity and JV volleyball made it a double set of victories with wins over Exeter and Dinuba.

Seniors observe Kimura dedication

Wednesday was the day set aside for the Donna Kimura memorial. Mr. and Mrs. Kimura were present as the class of '77 dedicated a plaque, which is set in cement. Two benches complete the memorial.

On Monday night Tri-Hi-Y installation dinner was held at the Valley Inn with Ravenna Snyder being installed as president.

Tuesday, proof selection for senior portraits was held. Portraits were taken by Senior Portraits Incorporated. Scream in the Dark also started today in Fresno. Campus Life attended.

At the pep rally on Friday, sophomores overpowered the seniors in the yelling competition. The seniors gained revenge by winning the poster competition. The Pep Squad made the rally a haunting experience by wearing total black and white facial make-up.

At the Selma Parade and Half Time Competition on Saturday, the band received third place in both categories.

50's day at KHS; Hays crowned king

Over the weekend Mr. Sam Crandell, world history teacher and wrestling coach, suffered a heart attack. He was replaced by Mr. Richard Riofrio but is expected to be back soon.

With homecoming this week, other activities were rather sparse.

Friday was 50's day and some people sure looked it! Ankle length skirts and those ever-so-soft sweaters were the garb of many. The Pep Squad carried out the 50's style, dressed in uniforms from past years.

As a special attraction, the pep rally was held outside with the yell leaders doing a yell in honor of the king of the 50's, "Fonzie."

Praise goes to the yearbook staff for having met their second deadline of 34 pages.

Homecoming

Seniors take first; Kristi enthroned

Homecoming activities started with the Everything Race and the Egg Toss. The sophs won the Everything Race, while the frosh team of Cheryl Jackson and Roger Yamada won the Egg Toss.

In the Tug-of-War both the senior girls and boys pulled their way to victory.

The Scavenger Hunt and Pie-Eating were held in the gym on Wednesday. The seniors managed to hunt their way to first. The sophs took second. In the Pie-Eating, the sophomore girls were first. Senior Doug Manning, a three-time winner in this event, tied with the sophs for first.

Thursday's event, the Penny Lineup, was won by the seniors.

Friday was the queen candidate's day, not to mention anyone else who was standing in the way. In between games that night, a surprised Kristi Steinhauer was crowned 1976-1977 Homecoming Queen. Her escort was Randy Soares. Her attendants were Lucretia Fagundes, Rachel Cervantez, Julie Hernandez, and Cindy Guerra.

2 wins in football; Harriers take title

Dinuba was a veritable feast for the Vikings, who rolled up 40 points in three quarters and called it a night. Against Orosi it was a different story as the gridders had to sweat it out until the end to capture a 21-20 squeaker from the Cardinals. The JV's raised their league record to 3-0 with wins over Dinuba, 35-0, and Orosi, 24-6. John Caudillo scored two touchdowns for the Norse against Dinuba. The frosh-soph record stood at 4-3 after they lost to Lindsay and defeated Strathmore.

For the fourth consecutive season the cross country team finished league play with an unblemished record. Doug Hanson and Danny Martinez, Kingsburg's "dynamic duo", finished one-two against Strathmore and in the league meet. Kathy Singh led the girls' team to victory over Strathmore and finished second in the league meet. Jeff Kenney took second for the JV's against Strathmore.

Varsity volleyball finished the regular season with wins over Orosi and Exeter.

KHS resumes normal activities

With homecoming over, Kingsburg High School returned to normal. A noon meeting for Mexican Culture Club was held on Tuesday. Their main business was to plan a car wash scheduled for Saturday.

Future Farmers of America (FFA) had their initiation Thursday. Those initiated wore gunny sacks over their clothes and had one hand painted green.

The high school and Roosevelt bands combined to present a half time show this week. The show was entitled "Mr. President." Mr. Avon Shakespeare served as the announcer.

Though spirits were a little low after the results of the game, a large crowd showed up for the dance. Once under way, everyone had fun hoppin' and boppin' to the tunes of "Keystone." This week's dance was sponsored by Girls Athletic Association (GAA).

As of today Mrs. Vera Delgado will begin working in the attendance office. She has replaced the retired Mrs. Eleanore Jones.

Tuesday the Key Club began their sale of green and gold vinyl bags for the purpose of carrying one's books, gym clothes, or various other items. The bags sold for $1.50 and could have been purchased from any member.

Girls Athletic Association (GAA) held a meeting Thursday for general purposes. They decided that they would have after school sports and have another bake sale also.

At the game on Friday, the band performed a half time show. It was entitled the "South American Salute." The formations resembled a sombrero and a guitar. The flag girls and band members did a crowd-pleasing dance routine to the "Tijuana Taxi." The show lasted five minutes.

Grid season ends with disappointment

Losses to Woodlake and Exeter put a disappointing end to a fine varsity football season. Against Woodlake, the Vikes outgained the Tigers in the total yards gained (372-188) but fell short on the scoreboard 12-20. Exeter shut off Kingsburg's usually-potent running game and took the game, 21-20. The Monarchs held the Vikings to 41 rushing yards. The Norsemen lost their chance for a league championship when Exeter beat them, 14-7, in the final game of the year. Earlier the Norse had administered a 46-12 whipping to Woodlake. Wins over Immanuel and Dinuba helped the frosh-soph team to a final 6-3 record.

Viking cross country qualified a full team for the valley meet with a sixth-place finish in the area meet. Danny Martinez finished eleventh for Kingsburg in 15:32. Kathy Singh took fourth place at the area meet. In the valley meet, the Vikes took 14th.

Kingsburg varsity still had fine year

Although they didn't win the league championship, the Vikings still had a fine year.

Their 6-4 record is respectable, not mentioning the fact that three of the teams that beat the Vikes made it into the valley playoffs.

Reedley, Exeter and Riverdale competed in the valley playoffs, while Woodlake was a strong non-playoff team.

Although losing to these four teams, the Vikings rolled up more first downs, passing yardage and total yardage.

The league losses to Woodlake and Exeter were especially tough because the Vikings had to play these games with injuries to key players. Kingsburg's final league record was 3-2.

Elvis, Nasty Pierre entertain students

Monday, play practice started for the drama production of TRUE BLUE AND TRUSTED and BLAZING GUNS AT ROARING GULCH. It will be presented on Dec. 2 and 4.

Did you ever see a bird ride a tricycle? Or a bird make a basket through a hoop? The student body had the privilege to see just that on Tuesday. First the trainer spoke to the audience about the training and caring of his birds. Later in the program his two birds performed several stunts such as riding a tricycle, balancing on a ball, riding a scooter, and various other acts that amused the students. Also on Tuesday Tri-Hi-Y met after school and attended a tour-demonstration at the local Bank of America.

Thursday the A Cappella Choir performed at night in the Evangelical Free Church. Their performance was based on Thanksgiving. Some of the selected songs that were sung were: "Praise the Lord." "Let All the Nations Praise the Lord" and "Make a Joyful Noise Unto the Lord."

A WINTER PAUSE TO REFLECT

September finally arrived after a hard-fought summer. With wasted peaches on the ground and raisins to be taken care of, the students of Kingsburg High School returned to school. However, it still seemed like the middle of July. Days of 100 degrees or more were not uncommon.

School was the same as always. New friends were made and old friends reminisced. The excitement of school could be capsulized into these friendships. Yet, for many, the idea of school was not appealing. The majority of the students had worked the entire summer in the fruit, and were in need of a vacation. Not only the farmers themselves, but their workers also had strived to save as much of the crops as possible. Many of us, as students, were their workers. As such, we are affected just as much by the failures in this community as by the successes.

Now in early December, the weather has changed considerably. Everyone has dug out their warm, wooly coats. The cafeteria is more crowded as people scurry there during lunch not only for a hot meal, but mostly for the warmth it has to offer. Frosty mornings and nippy nights come one after another, and, of course, the fog rolls in. Nevertheless, the students of KHS move onward. We have had many experiences and memories thus far, but we know that half of the year still remains. For now, we just sit silently in the cold of winter and await still another change. . . .spring.

Melodramas put on by drama students

Monday, Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) started selling scented pens in grape, cherry and orange. Also today, Campus Life Powder Puff Girls' competition went into full swing. Practices were held after school. Tri-Hi-Y met after school to sort coupons. The coupons are used to buy provisions for a needy family at Christmas. This is a yearly project of the club. Tickets went on sale today for the Fall Sports Banquet, which will be held a week from today.

The drama class put on two melodramas at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre on Thursday and Saturday night. BLAZING GUNS AT ROARING GULCH starred Kathy McNabb, Stan Thiessen and Rachel Cervantez. TRUE BLUE AND TRUSTED starred Kathy Erickson, David Tennison, Randy Hester and Pam Thiessen.

Winter athletics start with wins

Winter sports started off with a bang. The varsity wrestling and basketball teams began the season with victories.

Basketball started off with a 60-58 win over Selma. The Vikings overcame an eight-point deficit in the final quarter to nip the Bears. Mike Hanson and John Zapata rattled the rim for 14 points each. Tom Harrell added 13 points and nine rebounds. Against Sierra the Vikes lost, 60-69. Zapata and Harrell each scored 15 points. The junior varsity team split with Selma and Sierra. They lost to Selma, 50-47, but came back with a 44-32 win over Sierra. A strong freshman team began play with victories over Selma, 23-22, and Sierra, 27-24.

The "Big Green Machine" started the season by pinning Sierra 56-14. Jim Horstmann, Frank Carrasco, Ramiro Hurtado, Tony Escovedo and Aaron Peterson all scored pins for Kingsburg. Sierra's JV team fell victim to Kingsburg, 58-12.

GAA begins work on sports banquet

Monday was slow as usual. On Tuesday the Mexican Culture Club held a meeting at lunch. A trip to California State University, Fresno was discussed.

Girls Athletic Association (GAA) met Wednesday for the purpose of signing up to work at the Fall Sports Banquet. The girls also expressed their feelings about having a female athlete receive a trophy similiar to the Rafer Johnson trophy given annually to a male athlete.

Thursday, during second period, the Selma Mariachi group entertained the students of Kingsburg High School in the gym. The group "Los Paisanos" danced traditional Mexican folk dances. The dancers wore costumes which originated in the same province as the dances.

Vikings impressive in early victories

After splitting their first two games, the Viking cage squad hosted the Kingsburg Lions Tournament. The wrestling squad opened the season by winning three straight matches.

Tom Harrell led the Vikings through the Lions Tournament to a third place finish. He scored 39 points in victories over Sierra and Washington Union. Competing in the Riverdale Tournament, Kingsburg High School took seventh place after losses to San Joaquin Memorial and Tulare Western and a win over Laton. The junior varsity squad absorbed losses to Lemoore and Roosevelt while winning over Fowler. The frosh team scored wins over Fowler and Lemoore, losing to Roosevelt.

The varsity wrestlers began the season on an impressive note with wins over Sanger, Selma and Bullard. Outstanding grapplers in early action were Ramiro Hurtado, Aaron Peterson, Sal Hurtado and Aaron Pena. The wrestlers seem to be carrying on their winning tradition despite the absence of Coach Sam Crandell. Mr. Crandell has been replaced by Mr. Richard Riofrio.

Tourney play tops holiday hoop fare

Trying to avenge an earlier loss to San Joaquin Memorial, the Viking cagers hosted the Panthers in a nonleague tilt. Memorial came out on top, 50-39. Mike Hanson led the Vikes with 16 points. Losses to Clovis and Hoover eliminated the Vikings in the early going of the Holiday Invitational Tournament. Clovis smothered Kingsburg, 77-40. Scott Lindquist scored nine for Kingsburg High. Hoover also beat the Vikings, 71-62. Hanson scored 14 points while Matt Allison chipped in 11 points and 10 rebounds.

The JV's were busy in tournament action of their own, taking fourth place in the Reedley JV Tournament. The Norsemen won their first round game against Tulare Western but then lost to Reedley and Sanger. Brad Fry scored 15 points for the Norse against Sanger.

League play opens for winter athletes

Central Sequoia League play began for the basketball and wrestling squads. The basketball team played two nonleague contests before starting league.

Against Riverdale, the Viking cagers succumbed to the Cowboys, 69-63. Five technical fouls marred the Vikings victory over Caruthers, 70-59. In the league opener against Orosi, the Vikings built up a 25-point lead and sat on it for an easy 69-52 win. Exeter fell to the Vikings, 72-53. The jayvees lost to Riverdale, 45-36, and stomped Caruthers, 64-20. Wins over Orosi, 40-32, and Exeter, 44-34, marked the JV's league outings. The frosh hung on in double-overtime to edge Orosi, 44-43, and defeated Exeter, 41-36.

Lindsay was the wrestlers' league-opening opponent and lost to the Vikings, 43-15. Woodlake came on and toppled Kingsburg, 34-21. Orosi proved to be no match for the "Big Green Machine," 65-9, and Abe Lopez' last match pin led the Vikes past Exeter, 33-31. Wins over Lindsay and Exeter along with losses to Orosi and Woodlake left the JV's league record at 2-2.

Big Green Machine keeps on truckin'

Basketball hopes dimmed and wrestling hopes rose as the first half of Central Sequoia League play came to a close.

Dinuba slaughtered the Viking cagers, 82-51. Woodlake handed the Vikes their second straight defeat, 71-69, in overtime. Tom Harrell scored 32 points for Kingsburg in a losing effort. The Vikings came back against Lindsay for a 81-73 win as Harrell scored 30 points. The junior varsity stayed undefeated in league with wins over Dinuba, 50-31, Woodlake, 59-30, and Lindsay, 52-36. Dinuba defeated the frosh team, 38-36, as did Woodlake, 57-26. The yearlings beat Lindsay, 49-32, as they shot 50 per cent from the floor.

Dinuba, Woodlake and Lindsay all fell prey to varsity wrestling team. The Vikings laughed Dinuba off the mat, 68-0. Using upper weight strength, the Vikes revenged an earlier loss by whipping the Woodlake Tigers, 39-22. Lindsay made the third victim, 58-9. The jayvees followed up their varsity mates by capturing wins over the same three teams.

Grapplers capture league tournament

The Viking varsity basketball team split four games, winning against Orosi, Woodlake and Dinuba. The Vikings were led by 6'6" senior Tom Harrell. The Norsemen got a clutch win against Dinuba, keeping themselves in front in the JV title race. John Soares led the Norsemen with strong inside play. The frosh team got revenge by beating the Woodlake squad 36-35. Coach Kevin Olson commented that the game was "definitely the high point of our season."

In wrestling action, the Viking closed out the regular season with wins in Orosi, Dinuba, and the all-important Exeter match. The win over Exeter made the league crown a matter of going through the motions as the Vikings then beat Dinuba, 58-6, to clinch the title.

In the league tournment, 11 Vikings qualified for the divisional meet. These 11 were led by Aaron Peterson and Sal Hurtado who both completed unbeaten league seasons. The JV squad captured six out of nine firsts in their league meet.

Baseball, tennis and track started practice this week.

Winter sports slate ends on high note

In varsity basketball, the Vikings found themselves on the short end of a 93-87 overtime game with Lindsay. The loss dropped the Vikings from playoff contention, as they ended up in third place at 5-5. The Norsemen beat Lindsay, 57-50, finishing at 9-1 and with the league crown. John Soares had 16 points in that game to lead the Norsemen. The freshmen team finished the season at 7-3, which was good enough for a second place tie with Orosi. The freshmen won their finale with Lindsay, 27-22. Woodlake (9-1) took the frosh crown, their only loss coming from the Kingsburg squad.

Kingsburg's wrestlers edged Shafter, 111-110½, to take the divisional title. The Vikes sent five grapplers to the valley meet. At valley, KHS finished 12th with Aaron Pena grabbing third place and a spot in the state meet.

In opening baseball action, the Vikings traveled to Tulare Western for doubleheaders at all three levels on Feb. 26. The varsity split while the Norsemen swept and the frosh-soph dropped two.

DAVE KENNARD, music (2-R): "Everybody likes music."

LORI LINDGREN, foreign languages (3-L): "Because I think it is important to learn how other people live and to compare their lives to my own."

KATHY ERICKSON, drama (3-R): "I think it's very enjoyable to learn about theater arts and involve them in my life."

VALERIE DAVISON, agriculture (4-L): "Because I like watching plants grow and I like learning about animals."

LORI FREEMAN, home economics (4-R): "I enjoy the different areas it has to offer. What I learn now can always be applied in my future life."

JERRY JACKSON, mathematics (5-L): "Because math is pure and simple and it's unchanging and it's not part of the comon rubble of banality."

DAN WALLIS, trades and industrial arts (6-L): "I like being able to work with my hands and being creative."

SHERYL LUNDBERG, English (7-L): "Because I like to read, second only to being a librarian."

KATHLEEN SORENSON, social science (7-R): "Because the subject relates to the problems of today which fascinate me."

The administration had many changes this year both in its structure and its staff members.

Mr. Don Witzansky is now the building principal, and his main function is to supervise the daily activities.

Mr. William Horstmann is now the district supervisor. Prior to this time, one person did both of these jobs.

Another change involves Mr. Gary Paulsen, who now handles boys' discipline in addition to teaching and coaching.

Mrs. Norma Mann is now assistant principal.

The social studies department had no change in the structure of their department this year.

As for new developments, the department is in the process of considering a new class in family life. However, this type of course is still in the development stages.

There was no increase or decrease in the number of teachers this year. Next year they may add a new member depending on whether or not the number of periods in a day changes.

The physical education department had the same basic structure this year with as many different activities as possible. Coed football and basketball were eliminated this year because of the bodily contact factor and the lack of compatibility of girls and boys in these activities.

The music department put more emphasis on large groups. An additional effort was made to upgrade choir II and orchestra.

This year an advanced placement calculus class is being offered for students who have completed trigonometry. The course resembles the recommended syllabus of the Advanced Placement Test in math. Students passing this test will be eligible for college credit or advanced placement in college math.

There are also two computer classes this year instead of one, and Mr. Ron Schmid became a full time member of the department.

The structure of the maintenance department is the same as always. The department is kept busy every year with state regulations for the buses. They also own their own diesel tanks this year which reduces the cost of gas considerably.

Some of the people have changed in the department. Mr. Greg Crass was given the position of the new custodian. Mr. Crass replaced Mr. Roy Anderson who retired last year. Mr. Cantu took over the job involving night security which was Mr. Crass' previous job.

Seniors '77 Shine on

Seniors bring experimentation, change to KHS

The class of '77 entered Kingburg High School with experimentation and change in mind. As sophomores they changed ring companies, choosing Herff Jones over the traditional Jostens.

The prom was unique as the seniors selected the Rodeway Inn for an original location. A "Shining Star" couple was chosen for the first time.

With seniors being the majority on the yearbook staff, they have had another change of pace. Jostens was chosen as our new yearbook company.

As the bodacious seniors of '77 graduate, they leave KHS with the memory that they did things their "own way."

Juniors confident

In their first year as upperclassmen, the juniors started out with a lot of confidence. Juniors Rod Rodgers, Craig Stone, Tim Bennett and Tony Groves showed outstanding efforts in sports. The girls also took an interest in sports with Shawna Nash, Rosalva Pena, Sharon Wilson and Sheila Wilson involved in volleyball, tennis and track.

Sophs project loud mouths; Athletes exhibit prowess

Sophomores displayed their most outstanding trait by winning most of the yelling competitions. Chris Avila, who is class president, is also a prominent sports figure. Others who show athletic prowess are Brad Fry, Scott Lindquist, Abe Lopez and Stan Thiessen. Female athletes also made their presence known with Margie Nieuwenhuijs and Laura Stone participating in volleyball and tennis.

Class of '80 totally baffled

The new form of registration totally baffled the class of '80. However, they put things together by electing John Stewart as their president. Some freshmen boys displayed outstanding efforts in sports. Todd Soares, Lonnie Anderson, Elias Olveda, Ron Gonzales and many others showed great potential. Kathy Singh, Rosalie Vargas and Lisa Loera held places on the cross-country team. For homecoming the freshmen chose Cindy Guerra as their attendant. The freshmen didn't win much in pep rally competitions, but this didn't stop them from coming back to try again each time.

Supplement

still to come

Under our new format this year, a supplement is being produced. This will allow us to cover the entire year. Unfortunately, because of earlier deadlines, certain parts of the year's activities will not appear in the main part of the book. Do not dismay. Spring sports, graduation and all major activities from March through June will be in the supplement. Look forward to it, we are.

Super staff puts it together

Putting together 200 pages of a high school yearbook is in no way an easy feat to accomplish. Most people don't realize the hard work and many hours that we, the staff, put in. To have a talented group that gets along well with one another is every editor's dream, and I'm proud to say that I was privileged enough to have this situation. There's not enough room on this page to say all I would like, so I'll have to limit my thank you's.

I'll start with the yearbook's main man, our advisor, Mr. Kevin Olson. He guided us through the year, and was always there when we needed him to instruct us through thick and thin. He's a man with many talents and I'm glad I was able to confer with someone as dependable and understanding as him.

Although I was the editor-in-chief, layout editor Becki Weaver and copy editor Lori Freeman, without a doubt couldn't have been replaced, and I'll always be indebted to them. These two headed a group called the Saturday Club. This was a group of us that came down on Saturday, and often Sunday, to put the finishing touches on our pages that would be due on a specific deadline. Other worthy members were Laura Johnson, Pam Rocker, Lori Lindgren, Randy Soares, Ravenna Snyder and Becky Koch, who devoted their time to complete unfinished layouts. Tim Crass and Doug Smith were always around printing pictures in the "mole hole," better known as the darkroom.

Others that were important to the book were Maria Matos, Janet Klassen and Manuel Soto in the artwork department; Janet Ando, Julie Kawano and Karen Carpenter, who were our reliable copy writers; and Karin Baldwin and Olivia Ledesma who worked on page layouts.

A yearbook can't succeed without care and loyalty from those who represent the publishing compnay. Jim Gift, who is always on the road, helped us tremendously in the planning stages and stopped by to check on us and advice us from time to time. In the plant, as he always is, is our technical wizard, Gary Uldriks. Having close proximity to the plant, I had the opportunity to hand-carry each deadline to the plant, where Gary gave his advice and went over each page with a fine-toothed comb.

These hard-working people made it all happen, and I'll always cherish the joy and happiness they that all gave me this year. Thinking back when we first started and comparing it to when it is completed, I can safely say that we did one super job!
